Demoralized Conditions in Exchange Adversely Affect Values in Cotton.

Wednesday Afternoon, July 16. After a period of apparent disregarof what financial conditions in Europe being fully occupied with hearing about the enormous demand for goods in this the enormous demand for goods in this country and the big bandicap inner which the new crop was certing started to another side of the picture. The continued demoralization in foreign exchange rates, which is but one of the ways in which the financial attuation abroad is reflected, was one of the dominant influences and there was a growing fear that maybe after all the promised expanison in demand for our cotton might prove disappointing, just as demand did when the armistice was signed last fall. Traders began to admit more openly that the needs of Europe and the ability to pay the contrast of filling such were quite different things, and thus was encouraged a more conservative attitude toward values. There is little disposition to talk of any big decline in values, but that the market is more two-sided than it has been for a long time hardly admits of serious question.

The weather map this morning was not a bad one, although some light showers over part of the central and eastern belt resused fresh concern over the weedl some people, however, figuring that the rains would or more good than harm. Temperatures were normal all over and there was little prospect of figures and there was little encouraging to some of the bulls and induced a little short covering, the mask of concern being the relevance to weevill arithrities, but the bulge which came thereon proved temporary and gave way before figurate over than due, although the unitaril course would be for that market to be better than due as although the unitaril course would be for that market to be better than due because of the enhanced value of raw machine altered words for the side with a subject was not exceed that selling came from this side, while authorit was not exceed that selling came from the side wild not have to bear the hurdon of deprochated exchange. The flat recovered some of the welling the flat points in idditing to 11.21d, with sales 5.00 hales the latter being the only encouraging feature. Nothing was received.

encouraging feature. Nothing was received.

Opening prices on this side were influenced by pace calies, good weather mag and a feeling that the weekly would be bearish. October started at $4.99c, but near dipped to $4.55c, which proved lew for the time. There was a little upturn, but after the report came and had some buillah features haping increased and there was let little for sale. The price ran up as high as $1.50c, but she affair did not have the old-time snap, and their rains news of how weak exchange was, 50-day sterling laving dropped ty $1.32. which means a big added handlean to exporters doing business. The list began to decline, and in the afternoon seasion October sold as low as $4.50c and did not seem any too well supported at the lower level.

There was little news from the spot department, but activity was limited for exporters are doing almost nothing. The dottestic spinhers are doing very little, aithough advices from the goods markets continue excellent. Exports for the day were inderested and the amping situation is far from favorable, as the marine workers strike appears to be spreading, some of the foreign ships now being affected.

Potures closed 65 to 89 points off, tone barely steady.

New Orleans closed 68 to 86 points lower, time steady. Spots were unchanged, unidding at $4.25c, and sales.

Liverpool is due to come 16 points

53 bales. Liverpool is due to come 15 points lower.

In the local market sales reported were 700 bales, while quotations were unchanged, middling at 31c.

Gentlemen—It is a pleasure to state that I have used Early's Quick Fat Hog Feed for two years and consider it the best feed for the sow, before and after farrowing. It is a milk producer and pigs thrive on it. As for a hog fattener, I think there will nothing equal it.
